FEAR STEAMER IS LOST.

Owners of the Bluefields Believe Crew Has Perished.

New Orleans, Oct. 21.—Five days overdue, the steamship Bluefields, which left Cuba for New Orleans, carrying a crew of twenty-seven men and the wife of the captain, is believed to have been lost in the hurricane which swept over the Gulf of Mexico.

"It would seem that she would certainly have been sighted by the numerous vessels coming and going if she were still on top of the water, or that she would have put into some port and communicated with us," said J. H. Vaccaro, one of the owners of the vessel.

The Bluefields left New Orleans last Friday morning and was due here Monday night. It is known that she was caught by the full force of the storm.

CHANGES ITS BIG GUNS.

Germany to Take Step as Result of England's Action.

London, Oct. 21.—The Daily News asserts that Germany has temporarily suspended the construction of four battle ships in its 1910 programme, in consequence of Great Britain's decision to mount 13½-inch guns on its future dreadnoughts. It is stated that Germany is contemplating installing 14-inch guns.

FRIENDS RELEASE CONVICTED SLAYER

Virginia Jail Stormed by a Mob of Mountaineers.

HE THOUGHT THEM LYNCHERS

John Moore, Who Was Sentenced to Be Executed for Murder of Frank Howl, Spirited Away—Governor Mann Offers Reward for Capture of the Condemned Man.

Livingston, Va., Oct. 21.—John Moore, the condemned murderer who was sentenced last Saturday to pay the extreme penalty of the law on November 25 for the murder of Frank Howl on May 24 last, was rescued from jail early this morning by a mob of about seventy-five men, who took the prisoner away from jail with them as they disappeared in the darkness.

The jail attaches were overpowered at the point of firearms, and the two doors between Moore and liberty were opened by means of crowbars and hammers, which were brought in goodly numbers by the members of the friendly mob.

Jailer Perry and Deputy Sheriff Gleason, who was summoned soon after the prisoner had been liberated, started in hot pursuit in the hope of rearresting Moore. While opinion seems to be divided in Livingston as to what section the mob came from, there is little doubt that it was made up of desperate men from the section in which the crime occurred and that they are men who once started on a project would not stop at anything. For this reason it is feared that should the deputy sheriffs overtake the mob there will be bloodshed.

Ignorant of Mob's Movements.

One reason for the belief that the mob came from the western and mountain section of the county lies in the fact that the telephone line at Colchen, which leads to the Lowesville section, was cut. This prevented the deputy sheriffs from ascertaining anything about the movements of the mob. The telephone line was cut in a number of places, and was so mutilated that it would be impossible for it to be repaired for use before the members of the mob could return to their homes, thus preventing the county officers from ascertaining early information as to its members. At 10 o'clock these deputies returned, after following the mob for a distance of ten miles, but never getting within sight of it, and it now seems certain that Moore will be spirited out of the county.

John Stevens, the death watch, who had been stationed outside Moore's cell when he was sentenced to death last Saturday, was sitting outside the death cell at 1 o'clock, when there was a gentle knock on the window from outside. Responding, he was advised that two of the men in sight had a prisoner for incarceration. Stevens notified Jailer Perry, who was sleeping above the jail, and as he opened the door the mob rushed in, disarmed the jailer and then, with crowbars and hammers, pried off the locks of two other doors between Moore and liberty.

Moore, badly frightened, for he did not know but that he also was to be lynched, was assured that he was in the hands of friends, and he was quickly placed in a buggy. The mob then drove quietly though hurriedly away. So orderly and so quiet was the work of the mob that no one in the little village of 200 persons seem to have been disturbed.

Woman Is Acquitted.

Moore was convicted in September of the murder of Howl. At the October term Mrs. Royce Howl, widow of the murdered man, indicted as an accomplice, was acquitted. Public sentiment was strong against the pair, but upon her discharge there was a change favorable to Moore.

At her trial he admitted his relations with Mrs. Howl, acknowledging that her youngest child, thirteen months old, was his offspring. She did not deny this. The case has been attended by thrilling sensations since its inception. Howl was poisoned with strychnine placed in liquor by Moore and given to him to drink as a beverage. Death ensued in three hours. But Howl was buried a week before the authorities took the matter up. An examination of the body disclosed large quantities of strychnine in the stomach, and Moore disappeared. A month later he reappeared, gave himself up, and was indicted.

Moonsliners Are Feared.

While waiting for trial Moore said that the liquor was poisoned by Nelson County moonsliners. Then it became necessary to spirit the prisoner away from the county for fear of vengeance at the hands of the moonsliners, who seem to flourish in the mountain sections without fear of the government revenue officers.

After trial an effort was made for a new trial on the grounds of insanity, but this was denied and Moore was sentenced. When being taken back to jail he made a break for liberty and ran 300 yards before he was recaptured.

Nelson County has had twenty tragedies in the last twenty years and this has been one of the most sensational cases in Virginia for years.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 21.—Gov. William Hodges Mann today wired Sheriff Estes of Nelson County, authorizing him to offer a State reward of $500 for the capture of John Moore, the convicted murderer, who was early this morning rescued by a mob of friends from the Livingston jail. The offer provided that the county offer a similar amount.

"ELIJAH" SUEVED FOR LOAN.

Holy Ghost and Us Society in Trouble in Maine.

Lynn, Mass., Oct. 21.—A report filed today by M. E. Dorman, as master in chancery, orders Rev. Frank Sanford, the "Elijah" of the Holy Ghost and Us Society, at Shiloh, Me., to pay $1,555 and interest from July 19, 1907, to Rev. Ira Case, of this city, an aged minister, who lent the leader of the shilohists that sum to aid in the fitting out of the bark Kingdom, which carried the Maine colony to the Holy Land.

Mr. Case, who is seventy-seven years of age and nearly blind, alleges that he was induced to make the loan to Sanford on a promise of a high seat among the elders at Hilltop, the temple of the cult.

LONG RUN OF COMEDY.

"Seven Days" Presented 400 Times in New York.

New York, Oct. 21.—At the Astor Theater to-night "Seven Days" reached its four hundredth consecutive performance in what is the longest unbroken run ever recorded by a comedy in New York. The run has continued without break since the night of the first production of the play. The occasion was observed on the part of Messrs. Wagenhals and Kemper, the managers, by gifts to the members of the company and a note of thanks for the share each had contributed to the success of the comedy.

Mary Roberts Rinehart, one of the authors of "Seven Days," sent a cable message from London, while Avery Hopwood was present in the theater.

WASHINGTON HERALD BUREAU, 625 King Street.

Alexandria, Va., Oct. 21.—The board of police commissioners to-night suspended Policemen A. J. Nicholson and Charles Roland for ten days each for their failure to respond to whistles while they were patrolling the Third ward on the morning of October 19, during a night inspection made by Acting Mayor Hubert Snowden and Police Commissioner Capt. Albert Bryan.

The board also suspended Policemen Knight and Field for seven days each because they were out of their beats on the same morning.

Eight members of the force, including Chief Goods and Lieut. Bettis, together with a number of privates, were among those summoned to testify.

The city council committee, which is considering recommendations for the extension of the city limits on the north, south, and west sides of the city, this afternoon went over the proposed ground, and will report at a meeting to be held November 8.

A decree was entered in the Corporation Court this morning in the case of Charles Lyman against the International Building and Loan Association, of Washington, directing Howard W. Smith, receiver, to pay to the stockholders of the defendant company a dividend of 10 per cent on the amount due them.

A coroner's jury last returned a verdict that William Duncan came to his death October 8 last between 6 and 7 o'clock in the evening on a north-bound freight track of the Washington-Southern Railway Company by being struck by freight engine No. 79 of the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad Company. The family of the deceased was represented by Attorney Howard W. Smith.

Metropolis Lodge, No. 16, Odd Fellows, to-night paid an official visit to Potomac Lodge, of this city. A large delegation from Washington was present. The Washingtonians were accompanied by their famous Kazoo Band.

A game of basketball will be played at Armory Hall at 8 o'clock to-morrow night between Company H, District National Guard, and the Alexandria Athletic Association.

The Citizens' National Bank has made application to the Postmaster General to have a depository for postal savings funds.

The funeral of Miss Abbie L. Schaffer took place this afternoon from the home of her parents, 427 Wilkes street. Rev. W. J. Morton, pastor of Christ Episcopal Church, conducted the services. Burial was in the Presbyterian Cemetery.

ENTIRE FAMILY GUILTY.

Aged Father and Mother Sentenced Along with Son.

Bristol, Tenn., Oct. 21.—John, Nettie, and Rupert Carleton, father, mother, and son, who were all convicted today of the murder of Arthur Howard, son-in-law of John and Nettie Carleton, and their punishment fixed at fifteen years each in the State penitentiary, are tonight living in the hope that Judge E. K. Bachman will set aside the verdict.

The elder Carletons are each past sixty years old. The son did the actual shooting, but a conspiracy was shown to have existed, and the parents were held equally guilty with the son, who is only seventeen years old.

Howard was a former railroad detective, and was shot down here last January at the home of his father-in-law. After the murder Howard's wife went to Denver, refusing to take sides against her parents and brother for the murder of her husband. She declined to return for the trial.

WILL TIE UP RAILROADS.

Switchmen Aid Muckinists of Gould Lines in Missouri.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 21.—The Switchmen's Union to-morrow will notify the Missouri Pacific and Iron Mountain roads that members of its body employed on crews connected with yard engines will, after Monday, refuse to haul nonunion men from the union station to the company's shops at Ewing and Chouteau avenues, St. Louis.

General Manager A. W. Sullivan, of the Missouri Pacific, says the first man that makes such refusal will be summarily dismissed.

To-day, at 10 a. m., 2,500 boiler-makers, blacksmiths, sheet metal workers, their helpers and apprentices, laid down their tools and walked out in pursuance to a general strike order issued last Monday midnight by President James O'Connell, of the International Association of Machinists.

Three through freight trains are tied up in the Chouteau avenue yards here to-night, unable to get out, due to lack of proper motive power. Railroad officials deny this, and claim that trains are being held purposely. No violence has so far been reported.

Vaccine for Typhoid.

Lawrence, Kans., Oct. 21.—Vaccine is to be used on University of Kansas students in an attempt to prevent the spread of typhoid fever here. Dr. M. T. Sudler, head of the municipal department, announced to-day that all students might be vaccinated free. Frank E. Bryant, professor of English literature in the university, died of typhoid fever yesterday. He was thirty-three years old. His parents reside in Grand Rapids, Mich.

RIDE IN NIGHT GOWNS.

Members of Hunt Club Have Moonlight Steeplechase.

Baltimore, Oct. 21.—With the pether ends of night robes streaming in the wind, and with their night caps bobbing white against the dark background, eight members of the Green Spring Hunt Club held a moonlight steeplechase last evening, over a two-mile course, near Stevenson.

Fifty friends clustered at the finish and cheered on the strangely garbed riders as they urged their mounts to the whitewashed jumps.

It was over Irving crossings place that the race was run. R. C. Stewart won the first prize, a silver pitcher, and Messrs. Spencer and Tipper were awarded second and third prizes.

POST FOR STOTESBURY.

Changes in Directorate of Philadelphia Rapid Transit.

Philadelphia, Oct. 21.—Though no official announcement has yet been made, it was stated by an official of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company this evening that E. T. Stotesbury will become chairman of the board of directors of that company, and that, as soon as conditions warrant, a complete reorganization of the system will be effected.

This decision, it was said, was arrived at at a conference held in Mr. Stotesbury's office this afternoon between Mr. Stotesbury and a number of financiers in the local traction corporation. The opinion was expressed by financiers to-day that when the official announcement of Mr. Stotesbury's acceptance is forthcoming it will be accompanied by the announcement that Henry S. Grove, now president of the William Cramp Ship and Engine Building Company, will become president of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company. Mr. Grove has been closely identified with the Drexel interests for a number of years.

DEER AND ELK BURNED.

Monticello, N. Y., Oct. 21.—For the third time in three years the large game preserve of Chester W. Chapin, at Glen Spey, Sullivan County, was set on fire last night.

Great droves of deer and elk rushed from the preserve to escape the flames to-day, and many of them fell easy prey to the outlaw hunters, who, in order to drive the deer from the park, have started these fires, which have done many thousands dollars of damage to the park lately and burned to death many deer and elk.

A hundred men are fighting the fire to-day, among whom are many New York and Brooklyn sportsmen who offered their services.

The Social Buccaneer

By FREDERIC S. ISHAM

Author of "Half a Chance," "The Strollers," "Under the Rose," &c.

The debonaire high society New York young man who figures in Mr. Isham's new mystery novel is a sort of modern Robin Hood, bent on relieving the rich of their ill-gotten gains and distributing the booty among the poor. The application of this novel form of distributing wealth involves him in many hazardous adventures, which are told by Mr. Isham in his own thrilling and interesting style.
